Application eXchange

Leverage real-life MRI user community knowledge through hundreds of custom apps

Solution Overview

Your business's success demands technology that functions in open and connected ecosystem with solutions flexible enough to support your needs. That's why we created the MRI Application eXchange (MAX), a user-driven environment for the sharing of ideas, reports, and other customizations in MRI. Users can upload and download custom builds, as well as rate and share feedback to improve their current customizations. To date, our active user community have downloaded over 3,400 customizations. From reports and views to utilities and entire apps, MAX powers collaboration among users of MRI just like you.
